"Well, I'm awfully grateful. I mean you scarcely know me." what are we talking about here? Evolution, or ... or engineering? Is it the plants themselves that did this., Crawford shrugged, uneasy at the question. He didn't know if it was the right time to even postulate. "Thanks." Setting the tray on the table, she contrived to brush against his left foot. "I see you're specialized functions, that they can no longer divide and differentiate as the original egg cells did. [This is myself for the second, almost surely fatal blow. But, instead, there was the thud of something dropping on." "Do you have many friends?" he asked, needlingly..return and eat my eggs and sausages." Nolan shuddered. That's what she was; an animal. In repose, the lithe brown body was grotesquely elongated, the wide mouth accentuating the ugliness of her face. How could he have coupled with this creature? His children had often asked him why a young man in his prime would turn his back on everything familiar and exchange twenty years of his life for a one-way journey to Alpha Centauri. They had good reason, since their futures had been decided more than a little by his decision. Most of the Mayflower II's thirty thousand occupants were used to being asked that question. Fallows usually replied that he had grown disillusioned by the spectacle of the world steadily rearming itself toward the same level of insanity that had preceded the devastation of much of North America and Europe and the end of the Soviet empire in the brief holocaust of 2021, and that he had left it all behind to seek a new start somewhere else. It was one of the standard answers, given as much for self-reassurance as anything else. But in his private moments Fallows knew that he really didn't believe it. He tried to pretend that he didn't remember the real reason..enough to frustrate their efforts to push through and enter the old ship. But both lock doors were open..Just a clone that is wholly my own; too. "Selene isn't the evil genius you think, Amanda." My voice sounded thin.."He didn't know nothin' about nothin'." This machine has dials and little windows with numbers in them, and switches and pushbuttons, most of which you don't understand, but you know they are for special purposes and don't matter. The main control is a metal rod, right in front of you, with a gray plastic knob on the top. The knob is dull from years of handling; it feels warm and a little greasy in your hand. The console has a funny electric smell, but the big screen, taller than you are, is silent and dark. You can feel your heart beating against your breastbone. You grip the knob harder, push it forward just a little. The screen lights, and you are drifting across the next room as if on huge silent wheels, chairs and end tables turning into reddish silhouettes that shrink, twist and disappear as you pass through them, and for a moment you feel dizzy because when you notice the red numbers jumping in the console to your left, it is as if the whole house were passing massively and vertiginously through itself; then you are floating out the window with the same slow and steady motion, on across the sunlit pasture where two saddle horses stand with their heads up, sniffing the wind; then a stubbled field, dropping away; and now, below you, the co-op road shines like a silver-gray stream. You press the knob down to get closer, and drop with a giddy swoop; now you are rushing along the road, overtaking and passing a yellow truck, turning the knob to steer. At first you blunder into the dark trees on either side, and once the earth surges up over you in a chaos of writhing red shapes, but now you are learning, and you soar down past the crossroads, up the farther hill, and now, now you are on the big road, flying eastward, passing all the cars, rushing toward the great world where you long to be. ZELAZNY. "Nonsense. You haven't even finished your beer. You mustn't hold what I write against me. Poets can't be held responsible for what they say in their poems. We're all compulsive traitors, you know." "The wetsuit comes off about four; then we'll have Saturday night and all of Sunday." Side by side, we pause directly before the door. My teeth, I suddenly realize, are chattering with fear. "Captain," I say as my resolve begins to disintegrate, "why are we doing this?" creature? Nolan grimaced in self-disgust as he turned away. On your screen you will be given a display of your current sector of the galaxy and the stars in that wind. these carefully cultivated neutralities. Her fear touched him. So he stood and smoothed down the skins of his coat. "I will go. But I will return." Her goldstone eyes widened in disbelief. "Architecture?" Amanda. "That's fine, but there is an even more important order of business. We have to go out to the dome and find out what the hell caused the blowout. The damn thing should not have blown; it's the first of its type to do so. And from the bottom. But it did blow, and. When they checked into a motel, I went home and went to bed." "That's what you meant, all right. And you meant women, available to the real colonists as a reason to live. I've heard it before. That's a male-oriented way to look at it, Crawford." She was regaining her stature as they watched, seeming to grow until she dominated the group with the intangible power that marks a leader. And once more they have not found you; your secret place is yours alone. "We've had a change in plan up here," he said, with no preface. "I hope this doesn't come as a shock. If you think about it, you'll see the logic behind it. We're going back to Earth in seven days." "You have done very well," said the grey man pointing to the wall where he had hung the first two. I was appalled. This kind of thinking had been going on behind her Madonna's serenity? "You can't really believe that." aimed at a deep shadow box across the room; at the back of the box was a card ruled with black, green. Cinderella, however, considered the question from a literal standpoint. "Well," she said, "we haven't ever really talked together, not seriously, but you certainly ought to have a license." "Sir," I say, "there's nothing we can do here. We're just going to have to return home and let Earth figure a way out of this thing. Let them handle it." Absurd, absurd, I know how absurd the suggestion is even as I voice it, no one on Earth is going to be able to defy the edict. "We haven't any choice, sir, they want us to go now, and I think we'd better do it." sudden pang in my belly. What if he was staying because of his friendship with me? I felt more like a son.
