embarrassment at his own shortcomings. "You help me? How?" Colman ignored the remark. "Just think about it," he muttered. "For your own sake." Colman narrowed his eyes, barely conscious of the jealous mutterings behind him. "Well . . . sure," he said cautiously. "If it wouldn't be any trouble to anyone. You must have talked to the two guys who were here earlier." . . . out there until the Beagle Boys have hammered themselves into exhaustion." . . . be, but who may also be Death with facial hair, says, "Curtis Hammond. That's a powerfully peculiar thoroughbred but performed like a worn-out plow horse." "We're still the some people," Jay said from the end of the sofa, looking at his mother. "That's not going to change. If you're going to act dumb, you can do that anywhere." To Bernard's mild surprise Jay had shown a lively interest in the conversation all through dinner and had elected to sit in afterward. About time too, Bernard thought to himself. With a sigh and a laugh, Micky said, "Why don't we save time and you just tell me what I believe?" The young intruder looks away from the pop star, confused by his feelings, surprised that he possesses. Stern shrugged. "So, why do you care about a few Chironians having to find somewhere else to live? They have an entire planet, most of which is empty. They will hardly starve." . . . politics? helping troubled youth, turning their lives around." "Shuddup," Colman hissed. Bantam Books are published by Bantam Books, a division of Random House, Inc. Its trademark, steel and railroad ties, automobile transports, slat-sided trailers carrying livestock, tankers full of gasoline, reverse osmosis in a properly formulated hot bath. She traveled with such a spectacular. She'd better get a fix on the creature while it was stunned. She backed away, dropped awkwardly to. The owner hustled forward, twisting a cloth nervously in his hands. "Look, I don't want any trouble. I just wanna sell food to the people, okay? They don't want no trouble either. Now why don't--" The tailgate is hinged at the bottom. Two latch bolts fix it at the top. Rickster's sloped brow, his flat nose, and the heavy lines of his face seemed best suited for morose. "Why don't you piss off," he growled at last. Groping blindly, he discovers that the truck is loaded in part with a great many blankets, some rolled and. Even more loquacious than usual, talking faster, as though the briefest interruption in the flow of words. certain that these Bureau agents know them for who they really are. "She gets eighty-six thousand a year," Noah said. "It's a klutz," Adam said wearily. "It's got a glitch in its visual circuits somewhere . . . something like that. I don't know." "I hung it in the hallway," Veronica said, getting up. She walked ahead and out the door while Mrs. Crayford waddled a few feet behind. "Don't bother bringing anything out, Celia," Veronica's voice called back. "I'll come back in for the things." "I've seen your mother go through a lot of men over the years. She's always been so . . . restless. I knew. small, though it isn't beyond the realm of possibility. Skulking among the trucks, staying as much as possible out of the open lanes of the parking lot, the alert. upbraiding from old Sinsemilla could escalate into a long bout of vicious hectoring. Although Mother. pretty?" . . . there's no doubt one present? and that they will hassle even properly documented workers if they're in a. "Exactly, Jay. What you have is an ascending hierarchy of increasing levels of complexity. At each level, new relationships and meanings emerge that are functions of the level itself and don't exist at all in the levels beneath. For instance, there are twenty-six letters in the alphabet. One letter doesn't carry a lot of information, but when you string them together into words, the number of things you can describe fills a dictionary. When you assemble words into sentences, sentences into paragraphs, and so on up to a book, the variety is as good as infinite, and you can convey any meaning you want. Yet all the books ever written in English only use the same twenty-six letters." . . . that movies are life, Bobby said, "You're not the hero. My part's the male lead. You're in the Sandra." "Don't you think stealing people's homes and throwing them out is violent enough?" Jean asked from one of the dining chairs, while Jay listened silently from across the table. "What were they supposed to do? They ignored the soldiers and settled it with the man responsible. He should have been expecting it." Though the source is unclear from this perspective, the tumult can't be missed. Fleeing customers are. "You've got your father's name," Geneva said hopefully. "If he could be found . . ." Five minutes later the three Terrans rounded a corner and began following a footpath running beside a stream that would bring them to Adam's. They were deep in thought and had said little since bidding the painter farewell. After a short distance Jay slowed his pace and came to a halt, staring up at a group of tall Chironian trees standing on the far side of the stream alongside a number of familiar elms and maples that were evidently imported-genetically modified by the Kuan-yin's robots to grow in alien soft. The two sergeants waited, and after a few seconds followed Jay's gaze curiously. . . . poisonous that he feels compelled to lash out, to hammer the dreaming boy and diminish this intolerable. Then came the question of what to do with the rest of the evening. "Tim's been telling us about the martial arts academy that he and his young lady here belong to," Hanlon said. "It sounds like quite a place. I've a suspicion that Jay's hankering to have a look at it, and I'm thinking I might just go along there with him." "Guard detail, file left and right by sections," Sirocco said at the front. "Section leaders forward." He moved out into the aisle, where the floor had folded itself into a steep staircase to facilitate fore-and-aft movement, and climbed through into the side-exiting lock chamber with Colman and Hanlon behind him while Red and Blue sections formed up in the aisles immediately to the rear. In the lock chamber the inner hatch was already open, and the Dispatching Officer from the shuttle's crew was carrying out a final instrumentation check prior to opening the outer hatch. As they waited for him to finish and for the rest of the delegation to move forward in the cabin behind, Colman stared at the hatch ahead of him and thought about the ship lying just on the other side of it that had left Earth before he was born and was now here, waiting for them after crossing the same four light-years of space that had accounted for a full half of his life. After the years of speculations, all the questions about the Chironians were now within minutes of being answered. The descent from the Mayflower II had raised Colman's curiosity to a high pitch because of what he had seen on the screen. For despite all the jokes and the popular wisdom, one thing he was certain of was that the engineering and structural modifications that he had observed on the outside of the Kuan-yin had not been made by irresponsible, overgrown adolescents. In the hall, a violent fit of the shakes overcame her, rattling teeth to teeth, knocking elbows against ribs. "No," the boy answered after a moment's reflection. "I could say fairies make the flowers up there grow, but the fact that the flowers are growing wouldn't prove that the fairies exist, would it?" Another flash of stars and they were in Idaho, one of the two fixed modules that carried the main support arms to the Spindle. The inside was a confusion of open and enclosed spaces, of metal walls and latticeworks, tanks, pipes, tunnels, and machinery. They stopped briefly to take on more passengers, probably newly arrived from the Spindle via the radial shuttles. Then the capsule moved away again. Cultured one in Noah if the dispiriting visit with Laura hadn't inoculated him against smiling for a while. "Nobody told me anything." touch any more than she had reacted to Micky's questions. Tremors quaked through her. Because any hesitation would lead to the complete collapse of Leilani's will, she had to act while. Colman thought about the briefings he had attended recently on the offensive tactics for seizing key points on the surface of Chiron in the event of hostilities, and the intensive training in antiterrorist and counterterrorist operations that had been initiated. The speech reminded him of the old-time slave ships which arrived carrying messages of brotherhood and love, but with plenty of gunpowder kept ready and dry below decks. Was it possible for people to be conditioned to the point that they believe they are doing one thing when in reality they are doing the exact opposite, and to be blind to the contradiction? He wondered what the Directorate might have found out about Chiron that it wasn't making public. Remaining at the stricken woman's side, Micky looked across the fence and saw Geneva at the back. Old Yeller here to take a chunk of meat out of anyone who might try to do you wrong. "No," Micky said. "Cops haven't had one lead in eighteen years." Noah took deep breaths of the warm night air. On the way to his car? another rustbucket Chevy? he. The motel and the diner lay out of sight to the east, beyond the ranks of parked vehicles, marked by the. okay, too. Bernard looked from Kath, to Colman, to Jay, and then back to Colman. He was beaten, and he knew it. But after Kath's cryptic statement, he wasn't inclined to argue too much. "Hell, it's not so bad. He doesn't need anyone to stop him from getting shot," he replied. Beside him, Jay's face dropped. Then Bernard went on, "But he sure-as-hell needs someone to keep him away from those girls running all over town." He nodded at Colman, and the beginnings of a wry grin appeared around his mouth. "Keep a good eye on him, Steve. He's crafty." He turned his head and stared resignedly at his son. "And you," he grunted. "Get home on time, and don't say anything about this to your mother." folks, but it's a warm bath for others. You'll find work, sweetie. but the whole strange story is out there if you want to look it up. As for me, I'd rather eat pie, talk about. The Angel Stanislaw descended from the radiance and assumed Earthly form beside the cot. "Hanlon's got some. Tweaked by puzzlement, her classic features had a pixie charm. "Excuse me?" In the Political Science course at school, the Mayflower II's primary mission had been described as one of "preemptive liberation," which meant that because the Asiatics and the Europeans were the way they were, they would seize Chiron and convert it to their own corrupt ways if given the chance, and the Mayflower II therefore had two years to teach the Chironians how to protect themselves. There were other, more abstract reasons why it was so important for these Chironians to be educated and enlightened, which Jay didn't fully understand, but which he accepted as being among the many mysteries that would doubtless reveal themselves in their own good time as part of the complicated business of growing up. "What are the gifts still talking about in there?" Bernard asked. Explorer. "You never know. The chances might be better after we reach Chiron," Sirocco said. They stopped by a small open square, enclosed on three sides by buildings with striped canopies over their many balconies and flowery windows. A preacher from the Mayflower II, evidently anxious to make up for twenty years of lost time, was belaboring a mixed audience of Chironians from the corner of a raised wall surrounding a bank of shrubbery. He seemed especially incensed by the evidence of adolescent parenthood around him, existing and visibly imminent. The Chironians appeared curious but skeptical. Certainly there were no signs of any violent evangelical revivals about to take place, or of dramatic

"If you mean systems of beliefs based, despite their superficial appearances to the contrary, on morbid obsessions with death, hatred, decay, dehumanization, and humiliation, then the answer to your question is no," she said, looking at Colman. She glanced at her grandchildren. "But if a dedication to life, love, growth, achievement, and the powers of human creativity qualify in your definition, then yes, you could say that Chiron has its religion." and holding Celia's handkerchief to her face with the other. The grieving widow paused to look around the room, nodded once to the matron, and moved toward the door. They crossed the lounge and waited while the guard retrieved the luggage, and then the three of them rejoined the two guards outside the suite door. The party then reformed and began descending the stairs. -Pernak glanced at Eve for a moment. She slipped her hand through his arm, squeezed it reassuringly, and smiled. They both looked back at Lechat. "What everybody else will do when they've figured out how it is," Pernak said. He grinned, almost apologetically. "That's why we won't be able to help much, Paul. You see, we're leaving." in a miserable voice, Aunt Gen said, "It's never this bad in the movies." behind her, Leilani and Micky stared at each other across the dinette table. For languid seconds in the. Sinsemilla was highly amused. Words whooped from her on peals of laughter. "It's not poisonous, you." "Where do you get this stuff?" the advertising copy on boxes of cornflakes, or in the patterns made by flocks of birds in flight.. Micky was left speechless not by the child's acute perception but by hearing the truth put so bluntly.. that might encompass. He has never been to a carnival, but he imagines that the excitement he feels about. Colman shook his head slowly. There had been too much to think about in too little time. It was always the same; whenever the pressure was at its highest, there was invariably one thing that everybody missed because it was too obvious. They had all been so preoccupied with thinking of how to stop Stern from getting into the Battle Module that none of them had allowed for the obvious possibility of his being there already.. because they've lost a job, or just because. Yet with discreet nods and gestures, the workers continue to.. so intently focused on the rear entrance to the restaurant that not one of them catches sight of Curtis as. Bernard asked Colman after a short silence. "Could it be done?" but fear for her one good hand caused her to choose the nether end.. "Aha!" The preacher made an appealing gesture to the audience. "Is there any difference, my friends? Can we see atoms? Is this not arrogant insolence?" He looked back at the boy and jabbed an accusing finger at him. "Do you claim to have seen atoms? Tell us that you have, and I will say that you lie/" Another appealing flourish. "And is this therefore not faith any the less, and yet this person proclaimed to have no need of faith.
